

Sun Dies for The Moon

Lyrics by: David Drake

Vapor trails off the Leo in the sky
As it looks here from the grass under a glass of wine
Head in the clouds folding patterns up above
Like a figure of the one you were meant to love

Sun dies for the moon
Tell this heart its not worth breaking
Did she love you too soon?
Right from the start
Or did the clouds just part and carry you away from what you thought you'd be

Can she love like the sun loves the moon?
Every night he'd warm her and bring the children home
But tales are crossed and some believe it could end at all
So he put it all inside her and left in a black hole

Sun dies for the moon
Tell this heart its not worth breaking
Did she love you too soon?
Right from the start
Or did the clouds just part and carry you away from what you thought you'd be

The relationship of the stars is so important
When you swim across the ocean
Guide me, my light, to find the perfect love
I'll find the loving one
She'll find another sun

Sun dies for the moon
Tell this heart its not worth breaking
Did she love you too soon?
Right from the start
Or did the clouds just part and carry you away from what you thought you'd be You'll see
You'll see
