

Rich at Birth

Lyrics by: David Drake

You say you're a lonely girl who loves Mother Earth
Yet fashion is your religion
You were rich at birth
The fire burns brighter girl, as you have learned
And the only valuable diamond is one that you truly earn

Her eyes
They reveal the truth inside
Ignite the fire and burn the lie

Wah ah ah oh ah oh
Wah ah ah oh
Wah ah ah oh ah oh ah oh
Wah ah ahoh

They say you're an only child and all their net worth
Has protected you from escaping the chains of being rich at birth
But the fire burns darker girl, than you ever learned
And the Devil on my left shoulder says by now you should have turned

Her eyes
They reveal the truth inside
Ignite the fire and burn the lie

Wah ah ah oh ah oh
Wah ah ah oh
Wah ah ah oh ah oh ah oh
Wah ah ahoh

Her eyes
They reveal the truth inside
Ignite the fire and burn the lie

Wah ah ah oh ah oh
Wah ah ah oh
Wah ah ah oh ah oh ah oh
Wah ah ah oh ah oh
Wah ah ah oh
Wah ah ah oh ah oh ah oh
Wah ah ahoh
