

Land of a Thousand Tomorrows

Lyrics by: David Drake

A chill sets in on the desert wind
Howling sound through the yucca's
I close my eyes and I still have sight
Will I sleep through the night?

100 years I will dream
Adrift on a stream
The tender moon my keepsake
Is the heart safe to break?
Across the Milky Way we soar
Until we reach Heavens shores
A violet sun lights her eyes
Opal tears fill the skies

Lay me down again in the land of a thousand tomorrows

Suffering hearts in the sand waiting for your call
Suffering hearts in the sand waiting patient for your love

100 years I will dream
Adrift on a stream
The tender moon my keepsake
Is the heart safe to break?
Across the Milky Way we soar
Until we reach Heavens shores
A violet sun lights her eyes
Opal tears fill the skies

Lay me down again in the land of a thousand tomorrows

Lay me down again in the land of a thousand tomorrows
Lay me down again in the land of a thousand lies
