

Waited by the Window

Lyrics by: David Drake

She waited by the window
So long before the sun came
Was hiding in the shadows
Thinking up a new game to play
Before its time to leave
The tricks hidden up her sleeve
Were secrets she would keep until the perfect day

She waited by the window
So long before the rain came
Was hiding in the shadows
Thinking up a new game to play
Before its time to leave
The tricks hidden up her sleeve
Were secrets she would keep until the perfect day

Somewhere far away the night had turned its back on day
And she was ready for the change so long before it came
Somewhere deep inside where reality and dreams collide
She found out why she gets away so clean
If only you could see how she gets away so clean
La da da La da da

She waited by the window
So long before the sun came
Sun came
Sun came
Sun came